

Leading Through Change & Uncertainty: A Fighter Pilot's Perspective

Keynotes | Workshops | Coaching

All HIGHLY Customized to YOUR TEAMS

Brandon Williams

Leadership Speaker & Coach

Founder/Owner

LeadTac Leadership Development

Human Factors Leadership

In today's environment of dynamic change and uncertainty, Leaders must understand how to organize, lead, and operate their teams through VUCA...Volatility, Uncertainty, Complexity, and Ambiguity. VUCA drives Human Error, and Leaders of High Performing Organizations must mitigate Human Error with Human Factors Leadership.

Brandon Williams helps business leaders understand the Human Factors of Leadership; how to lead change in high performing teams and how to mitigate human error in complex and uncertain environments. His methodology incorporates the same techniques used by fighter pilots in highly complex and dynamic situations. He combines those techniques with his experience as an Air Force Officer, Business Leader, and Human Factors Expert, to develop leaders who can thrive in uncertain and complex environments. Brandon delivers high-energy, dynamic Keynotes and Workshops aimed at inspiring Leaders from all industries and organizations. His presentations can be delivered "in-person" or virtually, and are highly customized to your event and audience.

Keynote: Leading Through Change & Uncertainty, A Fighter Pilot's Perspective

How do we Lead our Teams in Dynamic, Complex, and Uncertain Environments? How do we Lead through Change? Brandon's experiences as a US Air Force Fighter Pilot and Officer will inspire and give you and your teams the tools to succeed in the dynamic environments we find ourselves in today. Your organization will understand Situational Awareness and how it is used in future decision-making. They will understand how Leaders navigate change and complexity with Autonomy and Mutual Support. And finally, your teams will be equipped to establish a Just Culture of Open/Honest Communication. Harness tactics based on Human Factors research and used by FIGHTER PILOTS in some of the most fast-paced and dynamic situations imaginable!

Take-aways & Learning Points:

- Discover how a High-Performing Team maintains focus on the most important Goals and Strategic Initiatives
- Your organization will understand Situational Awareness and how it is used in future decision-making. Perception-Decision-Execution.
- Your Leaders will understand how Leaders navigate change and complexity with Autonomy and Mutual Support.
- Your teams will be equipped to establish a Just Culture of Open/Honest Communication in the most challenging environment...Psychological Safety

Brandon Williams is an accomplished and results-oriented leader, top leadership business speaker, leadership coach, and technical expert with proven leadership experience in managing cross-functional teams and organizations. His experiences as a United States Air Force F-15E Fighter Pilot and Officer leading diverse teams of men and women from all backgrounds set the stage for his Human Factors Leadership methodology. In addition to his experience as a Fighter Pilot, Brandon is recognized for his expertise in Human Factors, having designed courses for and taught at several universities. His world-class execution of hundreds of speaking engagements to Fortune 500 Business Leaders from all over the globe consistently deliver superior results in how to help Leaders make better decisions in complexity and empower their teams!

For more information, contact us here: dfox@foundationspeakers.org/816-210-7162